

Pamó

Keep it safe.

Your USDC savings earn while they sit. From the Yoruba “fi pamó”, keep it safe.

01

Logo

The wordmark Pamó in plain black on white. The tone marks are the identity: one o carrying a dot below and an acute accent above. Everywhere else, the name is plain “Pamo”.

Compact mark

For the browser tab and home screen. Recommended: the ó alone, since it carries the tone marks. At 16 px the marks merge, so the favicon falls back to the P.

One green button per screen

The main action. Others are black outline or plain text.

Green means act or gain

Buttons, links, progress, earned amounts. Never headings.

Black is a moment

A dark footer or one landing section. No dark mode.

Never colour alone

Every state has a word or icon: Earned, Locked, Failed.

04

Type

One sans for everything. It must draw ó correctly, have tabular figures and be free on Google Fonts. Page set in Be Vietnam Pro; switch in Tweaks.

Pamó
3,300.75 USDC

Drawn for Vietnamese, so stacked marks and the dot below sit with care. Weak point: wide letters take more room at 390 px.

Hanken Grotesk

Pamó
3,300.75 USDC

Compact, open and calm in body text. Weak point: very neutral; the wordmark relies on the tone marks for character.

IBM Plex Sans

Pamó
3,300.75 USDC

Very clear figures. Weak point: a slightly technical, corporate tone for an everyday savings app.

All three ship a Vietnamese subset on Google Fonts containing ơ (U+1ECD) and the combining acute (U+0301), so nothing falls back.
